SECOND CAMP IS LAST CHANCE TO ENTER RESERVES

(By Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 21.—Citizens will have their last opportunity to earn commissions as officers of the reserve corps in the second series of camps which will open in various sections of the country, August 27, according to Colonel Melvin W. Rowell, officer in charge of training camps for the Western Department of the army. The third series of camps will be supplied from men who have already enlisted in either the regular army, national guard or who were drawn in the first quota of the selective draft army.

The Western Department of the army will furnish 1075 candidates for the second camp which will be at the presidio here. The quotas of the states follow: California, 457; Montana, 72; Wyoming, 28; Idaho, 64; Washington, 240; Oregon, 130; Nevada, 16 and Utah 68. Members of the training camps will receive $100 per month, transportation, uniforms and subsistence and must agree to accept such commissions as are tendered.

Application blanks, together with bulletins containing full information, will be mailed within ten days to officers designated in each of the eight states to accept applications. The location of these officers follows: Montana, Captain H. H. Clark; Helena, Wyoming, Lieutenant Beverly C. Daly; Fort D. A. Russell; Idaho, Lieutenant R. W. Ashbrook, Boise Barracks; Washington, Captain W. T. Patton, Fort Lawton; Oregon, Major Jens Bugge, Vancouver Barracks, Wash.; Nevada, Lieutenant T. D. Thorpe, Reno; Utah, Captain L. R. Ball, Fort Douglas; California, Major S. F. Bottoms, Presidio. Thousands of applications will also be mailed from headquarters at San Francisco.

The training will cover a period of three months for the definite purpose of securing line officers (infantry, cavalry, field and coast-guard artillery), to fill the grades above lieutenant and many places in the lieutenant grades of the second 500,000 troops.

Those eligible to apply for training in the camps are as follows: Men qualified, who were unable to attend the first series of camps through no fault of their own.

Non-commissioned officers of the regular army recommended already for temporary appointment. Age limit, 50 years.

Citizens of valuable military experience with ability to leadership. Age limit 44 years.

Men of exceptional qualifications who rendered their services to the government prior to June 5, 1917, and who have been listed under war department general order No. 37. Age limit 50 years.

Resigned officers of the regular army under 50.

Men of proper qualifications who have had three years in the army or national guard under 50.

Citizens of the United States who have had service in the present war as officers and non-commissioned officers of the line in the armies of friendly powers, under 44.

The minimum age limit for all is 20 years and 9 months, but in order to obtain the experienced class of men desired those over 31 years of age will be given preference. Men certified for the first series of camps, but who were unable to attend because of lack of room will have to renew their applications.

All applications must be in prior to July 15, and must contain the names of at least three responsible citizens. No letters of recommendation are desired. After July 15 army examiners will visit various points to examine applicants.

GUARD OFFICERS MUST RESIGN BEFORE ENTERING RESERVE CORPS TRAINING

National Guard officers who are contemplating entering reserve corps training camps must resign before actually reporting at such places, according to a cable message received by Brig-Gen. Frederick S. Strong, Hawaiian department commander, from Washington.

At army headquarters it was stated today that this order will affect four officers of the guard who have been recommended in the list of 10 men to go from Hawaii to the Presidio.

THREE GENERALS TO BE SHIP COMPANIONS

Maj-Gen. John F. Morrison, recently promoted from the rank of brigadier-general, is probably on the next transport due here from the Orient, judging by the fact that a ship's message has been received locally from one of the general's aides.

This is the boat on which Brig-Gen. Strong is to return to the mainland. With Brig-Gen. D. C. Shanks, recently promoted from colonel, also on the boat this will make three general officers on the vessel after leaving Hawaii.

COST OF DOG FEED NON-SUPPORT EXCUSE

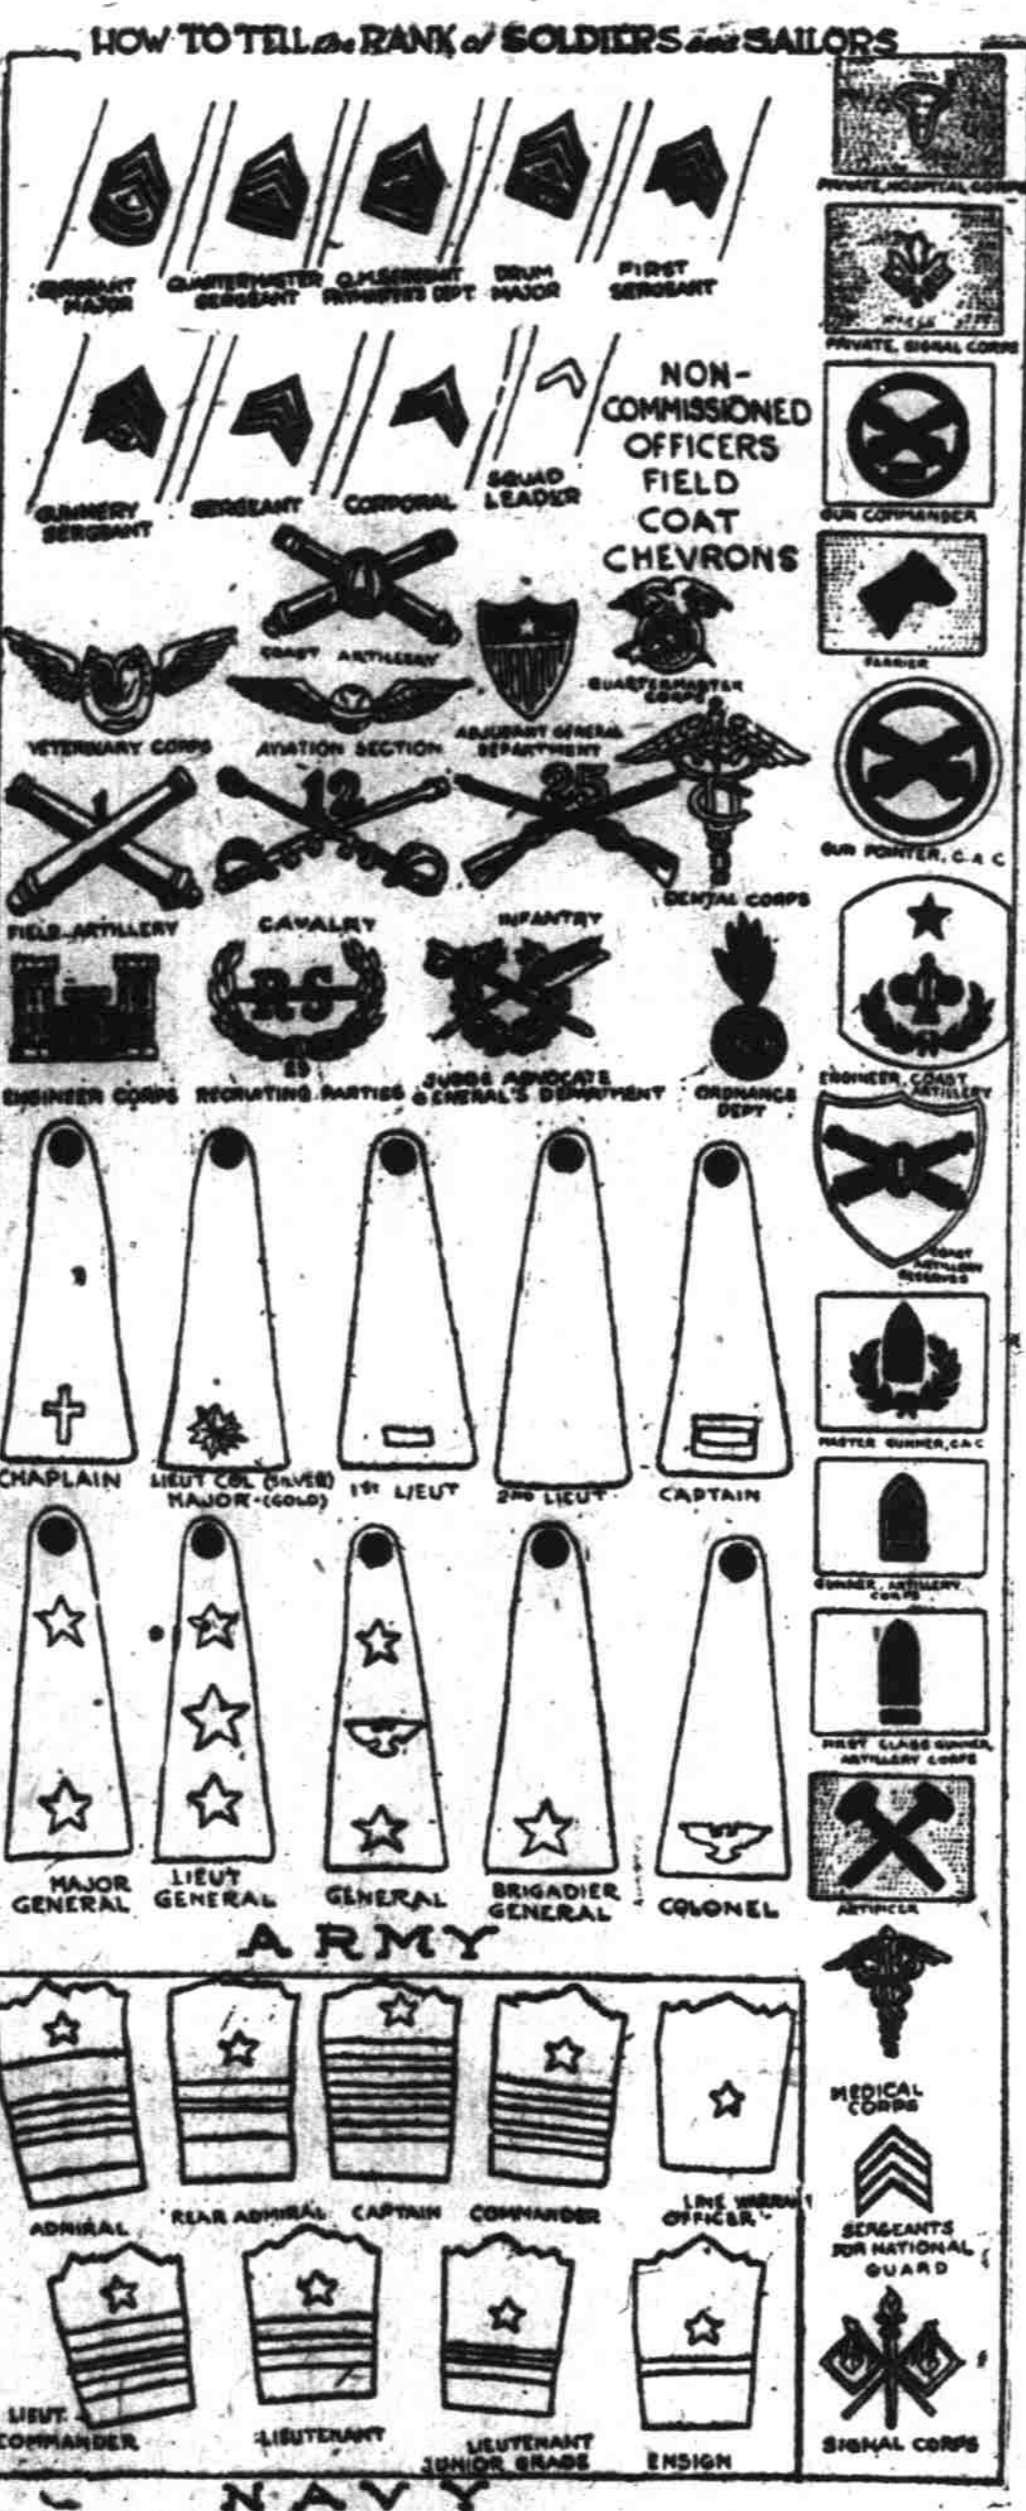

LONG BRANCH, N. J.—A new way to dodge alimony was disclosed recently when Edward Haviland, dog fancier, declared that high cost of dog feed prevented him from paying his wife alimony.

The court denied his plea and ordered him to pay his wife or go to jail.

How to Interpret U.S. Army and Navy Insignia

With khaki-clad forms everywhere in these days of war, it is interesting to know just what the various insignia of rank on the uniforms signify. Unless one has a knowledge of the meaning of the almost numberless markings on the shoulders and sleeves, a major-general might be mistaken for a captain. The illustrations interpret every marking on the United States Army and Navy uniforms.

TWO BRIGADIERS GOING TO MANILA 36 ARE LUCKY IN LAND DRAWING

According to mail advices received from San Francisco under date of June 20, the following officers are this month bound for Manila: Brig-Gen. C. P. Townsley, recently commanding the South Atlantic Coast Artillery District, Charleston; Lieut. Col. F. H. Sargent, 31st Infantry, Manila; Capt. W. F. Pearson, 8th Infantry, Manila; 1st Lieut. Herbert R. Corbin, Coast Artillery Corps, aide to Gen. Townsley; 1st Lieut. Robert B. McBride, Coast Artillery Corps, recently of Fort Monroe, Virginia; 1st Lieut. J. M. McDowell, 2nd Field Artillery, Manila.

Gen. Townsley is to take charge of coast defenses in the Philippines. It is probable that Brig-Gen. Robert K. Evans, recently recalled to active service for command of the Philippine department, will also be on the boat.

MISS RANKIN WINS FIRST FIGHT IN HOUSE ADDRESS IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Representative Rankin, of Montana, made her maiden speech on the floor of the house today and incidentally won her initial fight. She succeeded in amending by a unanimous vote in the committee of the whole, the food bill so as to provide that in making the proposed food survey the services of women shall be used insofar as practicable.

"Women must take an intelligent and responsible share of the world's work if we are fed all the time," declared Miss Rankin. Tremendous applause greeted Miss Rankin when she concluded. Members poured from the cloakrooms and lobbies to hear the maiden speech of the first congresswoman and she had the largest audience that has attended any session on the food bill.

Mrs. William R. Foster, wife of the harbor master of Honolulu, with her son, Jack Foster, of the Punahoa Academy, leaves this afternoon on the Wilhelmina for a summer's vacation in California.

Of the first 36 out of a total of more than 750 names of applicants drawn this morning for the purpose of allotting acreage in the homestead tract recently opened at Kapaa, Kauai, 17 are of residents of Honolulu and two residents of the mainland, one at Walla Walla, Wash., and the other at Waldport, Ore.

As the new tract at Kapaa, the opening of which was provided for by the last legislature, contains 72 lots, it is conceded that the first 36 persons who had their names drawn this morning are the lucky ones, as the plan is to allot two lots to each person. A large majority of the persons whose names are among the 36 are residents of Kauai.

Following is a list of the first 36 names drawn: W. K. Mahikoa, Mrs. Erma Ohind, P. C. Lafe, Joaquim Raposo, Joe Raposo, Margaret Evans, Tai K. Chung, Lee Wing, W. F. Keedy of Waldport, Ore., Ella Ah See, William Titcomb, Albert A. Malshock, Mrs. Julia Loane, Joseph Caiman, B. Santiago, Solomon Kupihua, Wong Feat, Jesse Miller of Walla Walla, Wash., Mrs. Rosie Oneha, Lucinda Smith, Elaine Kalowela, Eliza Richards, H. A. Richards, W. H. Melemai, D. Siasuinas, D. K. Hoapili, J. A. Sousa, Annie Hassard, Mary Jensen, Julia Yap, W. L. Welsh, Jr., Bernice Clark, J. P. Fagots, S. Malaka, Phoebe Cummings.

INCREASE LAND FOR GRAZING IS NEXT FOOD STEP

Anthrax Plague Spread By Persons Distributing Germs is Belief Expressed

As a means of placing the meat and dairy supply of the territory of Hawaii upon a safer basis, the territorial food commission will take steps immediately to increase lands available for grazing purposes.

This was the decision reached yesterday by the commission following a lengthy discussion of the food question with cattlemen of the island. The fact that anthrax must be faced as a disease of virile danger to the meat supply in this territory was freely recognized by those present. Already 250 animals have died of the disease.

Charles S. Judd, executive officer of the board of agriculture and forestry, outlined the situation yesterday afternoon before the commission and stockmen, stating that the board has every reason to believe the plague is being spread by human agents, probably in automobiles from which they toss the anthrax virus to fields alongside the roads.

Possibility of a meat shortage here was sounded by those present. James D. Dole, chairman of the commission, pointed out that production must be increased or consumption decreased to meet the situation.

Meat is no longer available from Australia or New Zealand as in former years, and the call for supplies on the mainland makes the hope of shipping from there impossible. Hawaii must take care of itself in this regard.

L. L. McCandless believed that island ranches were capable of supplying the demand, provided they were given more grazing land. He mentioned several large tracts which are unused at present.

Frank Andrade suggested that the government might well maintain a herd of cows to care for a large number of calves each year. One of the first things to do was to stock up vacant grazing lands, he said.
